Before and After Marriage.

BEFORE. My Maggie ! my beautiful darling ! Creep into my arms, my sweet ! Let me fold you again to my bosom-So close I can hear your heart best. What ! these little fingers been sewing ? One's pricked by the needle, I see! These hands shall be kept from such labor

When once they are given to me. All mine, little pet I will shield you From trouble and labor and care; I will robe you like some fairy princess, And jewels shall gleam in your hair,

Those slippers you gave me are perfect ! That dressing-gown fits to a T ! My darling ! I wonder that Heaven Should give such a treasure to me.

Eight-nine-ten-eleven! My precious, Time flies when I am with you ! It seems but a moment I've been here, And now-must I say it? Adieu ! AFTER. Oh, Meg, you are heavy! I'm tired!

Go sit in the rocker, I pray; Your weight seems a hundred and ninety When you plump down in that sort of way. You had better be mending my coat sleeve; I've spoken about it before-I want to finish this novel,

And look over those bills from the store. This dressing-gown sets like the d-l, Those slippers run down at the heel ! Strange nothing can ever look decent; I wish you could know how they feel. What's this bill from Green? Why, surely, It's not another new dress ! Look here, I'll be bankrupt before New Year, Or your store bills will have to grow less. Eight o'clock! Meg, sew on this button

As soon as you finish this sleeve. Heigh-ho! I'm so deuced sleepy-I'll pile off to bed, I believe. VARIETY.
